8.2 President's Report (J. Hamilton)

The President has attended a number of conferences and annual general meetings for the Boards he serves on. He has recently been re-elected to the BC Council of International Education. He is also taking a more active role in CICan.

The College has been awarded a LEED platinum designation for the Centre for Excellence.

8.3 CiCan Conference Report (T. Styffe, C. Gerbrandt, B. McGowan)

It was noted by the Board members who attended the conference that it is a valuable opportunity to connect with other colleagues and with First Nations. There was a lot of conversation at the Conference with regard to core competencies (Yukon College stands out in this regard). It was noted that the College should nominate some outstanding faculty members next year for the annual awards.

At the Conference there were groupings for leadership and governance, one worth noting was Tom Thompson's workshop on "Governance Stewardship" and "Magnificent Seven Skills of Governance".

Notes to the Financial Statements

March 31, 2015

2. Summary of significant accounting policies (continued)

Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents include highly liquid investments with a term to maturity of three months or less at the date of purchase.

Investments

The Foundation has invested in marketable securities for revenue generation. Investments are recorded at fair value with unrealized and realized gains recognized in the statement of operations. Interest and dividend income is recognized when earned.

Life insurance policies

Life insurance policies owned by the Foundation, which are non-cancellable and whose premiums are fully funded, are included in assets to the extent of their cash surrender value.

Contributed services and supplies

Okanagan College provides administrative staff and necessary supplies for the Foundation's operations. Because of the difficulty in tracking and determining their fair value, contributed services and supplies are not recognized in these financial statements.

Financial instruments

For financial assets measured at cost or amortized cost, the Foundation regularly assesses whether there are any indications of impairment. If there is an indication of impairment, and the Foundation determines that there is a significant adverse change in the expected timing or amount of future cash flows from the financial asset, it recognizes an impairment loss in the statement of operations. Any reversals of previously recognized impairment losses are recognized in the statement of operations in the year the reversal occurs to the extent that the reversal of the impairment loss does not exceed the carrying value of the asset.

Use of estimates

Management reviews the carrying amounts of items in the financial statements at each balance sheet date to assess the need for revision or any possibility of impairment. Certain items in the preparation of these financial statements require management's best estimate. Management determines these estimates based on assumptions that reflect the most probable set of economic conditions and planned courses of action. These estimates are reviewed periodically and adjustments are made to net income as appropriate in the year they become known.

5. Loan payable

Under the Capital Campaign Loan Agreement between the Foundation and Okanagan College, the College may provide funds to the Foundation, up to a maximum of $750,000, by way of one or more loans so as to cover the costs to be incurred by the Foundation in operating and running the Capital Campaign.

The term of the loan is four years – April 1, 2013 to March 31, 2017.

The loan(s) shall be made free of interest provided that the Foundation shall comply strictly with the terms of the agreement.

9. Financial instruments risks

The Foundation's main financial instrument risk exposure is market risk. Market risk is the risk that the fair value or expected future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market prices. Market risk comprises three types of risk: currency risk, interest rate risk and other price risk. The Foundation is mainly exposed to currency risk, interest rate risk and other price risk.

Currency risk – Currency risk is the risk that the fair value of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in foreign exchange rates. The Foundation is exposed to this risk on its investments in U.S. and international equities quoted in an active market.

Interest rate risk - Interest rate risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market interest rates. The Foundation is exposed to interest rate risk with respect to investment in fixed income instruments.

Other price risk – Other price risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of the changes in market prices (other than those arising from interest rate risk), whether these changes are caused by factors specific to the individual financial instrument or its issuer, or factors affecting all similar financial instruments traded in the market. The Foundation is exposed to other price risk on its investment in equities quoted in an active market.
